

A New Impulse – Third Conference – February 23-25, 2012

Inner Activity/Outer Demands

Introducing Claus-Peter Röh,

Co-Chair of the Pedagogical Section in Dornach, Switzerland

At the Bel Aire Elementary School, 277 Karen Way, Tiburon, CA 94920

Waldorf schools and Waldorf teachers are greatly challenged today by the growing pressures from parents and society in general, to be more main stream: performance benchmarks, more conventional organizational and leadership forms, a strong focus on academics, etc. Waldorf education is gaining credibility in some circles for the values that it has sustained for almost 100 years. Now is not the time for us to lose our orientation. This conference with Claus-Peter Röh will address the profound sources which can help us keep our bearings as we deal with the 21st century pressures that affect us and our schools.

Cost: $35.00 per person

Bookstore will be open during all breaks

The Conference Schedule with Proposed Lecture Titles:

Thursday, February 23, 2011

- 9:00 – Singing
- 9:30 – Lecture: Metamorphosis – From the Surroundings to the Point of Consciousness
- 11:00 – Coffee break
- 11:30 – Plenum: Burning Issues/Taking Stock
- 12:30 – Lunch Break
- 2:00 – Lecture: The Threefold Human Being as a Key to the Curriculum K-12
- 3:30 – Closing

Friday, February 24, 2011

- 9:00 – Singing
- 9:30 – Lecture: How Do Sculptural/Painterly and Musical/Speech Forces Work With Each Other?
- 11:00 – Coffee break
- 11:30 – Plenum: Burning Issues/Taking Stock
- 12:30 – Lunch Break
- 2:00 – Lecture: The Artistic Approach to Fostering Individuality in the Child
- 3:30 – Closing

Saturday, February 25, 2011:

- 9:00 – Singing
- 9:30 – Lecture: The Resonance Between Meditation and Daily Work– How To Awaken the Will
- 11:00 – Coffee break
- 11:30 – Concluding Session
- 12:30 - Closing

Born in 1955, Claus-Peter Röh has been active as a Waldorf teacher since 1983 at the Flensburg Waldorf School (northern Germany, on the Danish border) where he was a class teacher and also taught music and religion. While at the school, he also gave courses at various Waldorf teacher training seminars throughout Germany. In 1998 he joined the Initiative Group of the Pedagogical Section in Germany. In January of 2011 he took over the leadership of the Pedagogical Section in Dornach, along with Florian Osswald. Claus-Peter is married and has two children.

DRAFT