

Seeking Experienced Full Time Teacher for home-based Preschool for 3 children in Alameda

We're a group of 3 families (with 3 total children between 3-4 years old) looking to create a home-based preschool experience for our children while daycare is closed during COVID-19. We are seeking a full-time teacher (or someone with strong early childhood education experience) to enrich the children for 30-40 hours/ week.

You should have experience in Montessori, Reggio Emilia or Waldorf education approach. You are someone who loves spending time outdoors and helping kids discover the natural world. We would love to find a bilingual (Spanish/English) teacher who is energetic, experienced, and creative to stay with us for 6 months or more. Ideally, you are someone who proactively seeks new activities and ways to foster learning and development.

All three families are located in close proximity to each other in Alameda / Bay Farm Island. Each family will host for a full week, then rotate to another family's home. We'll rotate hosting to give families a bit of balance and offer the children different environments to learn.

We have plenty of age-appropriate activities and materials as well as space both indoors and in an enclosed backyard for safe and supervised play. We live in a quiet and safe gated community with plenty of green space and nearby nature trails and open outdoor space.
