

Learning Support Teacher (Part-Time Salaried)

Spring Garden Waldorf School is seeking a compassionate and collaborative Learning Support Teacher to join our Educational Support Team. This part-time salaried position offers the opportunity to make a meaningful difference in the lives of students by providing individualized and small-group support that helps each child reach their full potential.

Working closely with teachers, families, administrators, and the Educational Support Team, the Learning Support Teacher supports students with diverse learning profiles through targeted instruction, progress monitoring, and collaborative planning. The ideal candidate has experience supporting students with learning differences, an understanding of child development, and a commitment to creating an inclusive learning environment where every child is seen, understood, and encouraged to thrive.

Qualified candidates will hold a bachelor's degree in education, special education, or a related field and have at least two years of experience supporting students with diverse learning needs. Experience with special education, structured literacy approaches, executive functioning support, or Waldorf education is welcomed.

To apply, please submit a cover letter, resume, and three professional references to Learning Support Hiring Committee at learn@sgws.org.

Studies have shown that women and people of color are less likely to apply for jobs unless they believe they meet every one of the qualifications as described in a job post. We are most interested in finding the best candidate and future colleague. We would encourage you to apply, even if you don't believe you meet every one of our qualifications described. A bachelor's degree is required.*
