

Star Song School is a new initiative near downtown St. Augustine, Florida. As the nation's oldest city, St. Augustine is an exciting town with a varied history of cultures, made evident through historic sites, architecture, festivals and more. The music and art scenes are robust, offering something for everyone. Beaches, rivers, state parks, and the nearby Ocala National Forest are heaven for water and nature lovers.

Star Song School has risen out of the desire to bring people together in St. Augustine who are interested in the works of Rudolf Steiner and his indications for educating the child. We opened our doors in September 2021 with a small, dedicated group of Kindergarten and First Grade parents. In 2023-24, we will have K-3, and will add a grade every year. Our intention is to follow a path that will lead us to becoming a full- member Waldorf School.

Now, as we go into our third year, Star Song School is seeking an experienced, self-motivated, Waldorf trained kindergarten teacher to partner with the founding teacher in furthering the development of the school. Much of the difficult first phase has been set in place, and on June 1st we move into a beautiful new school site with a large kindergarten space. Currently, 11 kindergarten children are enrolled, but local interest is high, and we are sure to enroll more by August. The school awaits that special, pioneering soul to guide our kindergarten students and families.
